AREA REWARD MANAGER

A first-class opportunity for a reward professional to join this leading, high growth global FMCG!

With a brief to drive new reward strategies, this role is key to the development and implementation of best-practice solutions to attract and retain talented people. Reporting to the Area Head of Reward key accountabilities will include the management of change-focussed reward projects, remuneration reviews, analysis and reporting.

Your strong consulting skills and technical expertise will be underpinned by the ability to create effective relationships and clear communication programs. With a background in corporate or consulting, strong technical ability in reward is essential and a working knowledge of expatriate deployment and tax implications, desirable.

This opportunity offers a bright, versatile and collaborative reward professional scope to expand their career horizons through the role's broad reach and impact.

Apply to Andrew Price through our website, ref Rwd21.
