An attractive role for a versatile, forward-thinking HR Manager to further build contemporary HR in this leading-edge and internationally respected global business.

Rare opportunity for quality
senior manager

To sustain present and future business, the HR challenge is the continuous improvement of contemporary and relevant frameworks that support the organisation's ability to respond to ever changing global imperatives.

Technical,
fast-growing global business with strong HR agenda

Working within a broader HR structure you will contribute to people & organisational initiatives, partnering well-qualified BU managers in their successful implementation, with a focus on change, leadership and people capability providing robust strategies for the future.

Strong in your relationship management skills and a good all-round communicator, success also demands a track record of personal success in the alignment of commercial HR initiatives to business objectives, gained through a collaborative, pragmatic and solutions-oriented approach.

Degree qualified and suitably experienced in partnering at a senior level, you will probably have gained your expertise in a professional, technical or scientific environment.

Interviews will be held in the UK.

Please apply thorough our website, ref. Adelaide.
